Ballarat accountants now offering one-stop business solutions

With more experts in more areas, the team at Mulcahy & Co can provide a solution to your business, financial and legal requirements, all from the one office.

It was 1998 when Jamie and Chris Mulcahy opened their Ballarat accounting business - with a single office and no employees.

Twelve years on and the business now operates from a state-of-the-art office complex in Gillies St, with a staff of more than 35 across the four divisions of accounting and taxation, lending and finance solutions, financial planning and legal services.

Growing up on a mixed farming operation - cereal and oilseed grain together with sheep and wool production - near Streatham in the Western District, both Jamie and Chris learned their strong work ethic at a young age.

This ethic has continued through their business and professional careers and has contributed greatly to the ongoing success of the Mulcahy & Co group.

“Our clients have a massive advantage over other accountants’ clients,” Mulcahy & Co director Jamie said.

“Having access to professionals in each of the four divisions means we can truly solve all your financial solutions under the one roof.

“We can develop an investments strategy, source and structure the most appropriate finance solution, analyse and develop the most attractive tax outcome and then tie it all together with a legal agreement.

“All the professionals have input along the way and are on the same

The accounting division comprises the partners, Jamie and Chris, and a support team of qualified accountants and graduates.

The lending division is headed by Neil McCahon who has had many years of lending experience and is able to provide clients with the best finance option for their requirements.

Thayne Turley manages the financial planning division. Thayne has a team of staff with financial planning industry experience in order to provide the best advice to clients for their superannuation and investments.

Mulcahy and Co is also proud to announce the addition of a legal team, which started last month and is headed by Brad Matthews and Rebecca Bray.

A legal arm within an accounting firm is the most exciting development in the Ballarat accounting industry for a number of years, Jamie said

“To my knowledge, there has never been an accounting firm establish a legal division in Ballarat,” he said.

“Whether it’s for conveyancing, updating wills or power of attorney’s, completing the legal work for a business acquisition or sale, document a business succession plan or preparing a business buy-sell agreement being able to undertake these transactions with the lawyer and accountant under the same roof tying it all together ensures the best result for client.”
